Optimization Honored By Control System Integrators Association as Charter Member

Rochester, NY– Optimization Technology, Inc. has been honored as a Charter Member of CONTROL SYSTEM INTEGRATORS ASSOCIATION (CSIA), one of only a score of the world’s largest association of control system integrators to earn the recognition. The award was presented to Optimization, a system integrator since 1985, during CSIA’s 15th Annual Executive Conference, held in Savannah, Georgia.

“Companies like Optimization provided the initial foundation for our association more than 15 years ago, and have continued to provide the direction, vision, and support that have enabled us to grow nearly 20-fold since our first conference in 1994,” said Norman O’Leary, executive director of CSIA, who presented the award to Bill Pollock, Optimization’s CEO. “We are proud to call Optimization a member of CONTROL SYSTEM INTEGRATORS ASSOCIATION.”

“The CSIA has contributed greatly to our growth and success over the past fifteen years. We have been able to benchmark best practices in our industry and to learn from our peers. We are delighted to have been a part of this organization and the many successes they have achieved,” said Bill Pollock.

Optimization Technology, Inc., a global design, engineering and construction company headquartered in Rochester, New York, provides solutions and services for industrial and manufacturing applications. Optimization has several locations in the U.S., including Rochester, Houston, Syracuse and Boston, as well as Canadian operations based in Windsor, Ontario.
